The horse has strong muscles on its jaw.
The white Jeep is in for a tuneup.
A calendar is a good place to jot notes.
Sometimes I have bread with just jam on it.
The jug of water was just what we needed, when we took a break.
The job ad is asking for volunteers.
The jade plant has fragile pink blossoms.
The big jet is moving quickly down the runway.
The jar of candy has been tipped over.
The roll of jute twine is just what I need to tie up some plants.
The schedule for June has several classes.
This garage is packed with junk.
The game starts with a jump ball.
The jury meets at the courthouse to hear the case.
I poured the orange juice from an orange pitcher.
The blue jeans are frayed along the edge.
Should I wear this jacket to class today?
The calendar is open to July 1995.
The sandwich has jelly on just one piece of bread.
A jewel is missing from this ring.
